

Akron Symphony Orchestra Announces 2023-2024 Concert Season

The Akron Symphony Orchestra is proud to announce the opening of its 2023-2024 concert season with Beethoven's Ninth Symphony on September 29. The program celebrates the 50th anniversary of EJ Thomas Hall.

"We are thrilled to be a part of EJ Thomas Hall's 50th anniversary celebrations and honored to have the opportunity to open the Akron Symphony Orchestra's 70th season at this historic venue. As the orchestra that performed at the hall's inaugural night on October 9, 1973, we are privileged to still be performing here 50 years later," said Paul Jarrett, Executive Director. "It is fitting that we open the season with Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, a work that we performed at the opening of the hall, and, like EJ Thomas Hall, has stood the test of time."

This season promises to be one of the most exciting yet, with a diverse range of repertoire and world-class performers. It also celebrates the Akron Symphony Orchestra's 70-year history, and the 30th anniversary of a beloved Akron tradition, Gospel Meets Symphony.

"I am thrilled with the lineup for next year. It features great music, past and present," said Music Director Christopher Wilkins. "In this anniversary season, we'll perform many "greatest hits." But the classical tradition is wide and deep, filled with extraordinary works not widely known. We love to explore this music too. More than anything, it is our pleasure to share the exceptional talents of the Akron Symphony with the community that supports it so generously."

Maestro Wilkins leads the towering Ninth Symphony of Beethoven on opening night, Friday, September 29. During the program's first half, Cleveland Institute of Music-trained composer and conductor, Jerod Impichchaachaaha' Tate conducts his work, Clans, telling legends drawn from his Chickasaw heritage. Akron's own Dr. LaDonna Blue Eye, a citizen of the Choctaw Nation, narrates.

The January 13th concert features a sequel to last season's extraordinary co-creation with Akron-based EarthQuaker Devices. Composers Jake Gunnar Walsh and Jon Sonnenberg collaborate once again, bringing EarthQuaker's otherworldly sounds to the symphonic stage.

World-renowned cellist, and Baldwin Wallace University faculty member, Khari Joyner performs the Dvořák Cello Concerto on November 18. And superstar trumpeter Mary Elizabeth Bowden performs a new work for trumpet and string orchestra by the multi-talented Brazilian American composer, Clarice Assad.

The ASO is dedicated to bringing the highest quality performances to the Akron community and beyond, and with a season like this, there is much to celebrate!
